The financial education is part of our objectives. Daniela Șerban, ARIR President, joined the Profit TV's Financial Education Marathon show, where she highlighted some key points:

- The decision-making process for investing takes time, a fairly lengthy period.
- Before arriving at a final decision, it's essential to review the financial situation and perform calculations within a family context.
- It's important to emphasize that the stock market is not suitable for everyone, which is why prudence in managing our finances is recommended.
